The New Friend

One morning, Mia went to school early. She brought her pink lunch box and her blue water bottle. When she arrived, she saw a new girl sitting beside her chair. The new girl was quiet and smiling.

During recess, Mia shared her biscuits with the new girl. They played on the swings and talked about their favorite animals. The new girl said her favorite animal is a rabbit. Mia said her favorite animal is a cat.

After class, the new girl said, "Thank you for being my friend." Mia felt happy because she made a new friend that day. They walked to the gate together with their teacher.

The Lost Puppy

One sunny morning, Ben went to the park with his mother. He brought his blue ball and a sandwich. Ben played near a big tree. While he was playing, he saw a small brown puppy. The puppy looked lost and hungry. Ben gave the puppy a small piece of his sandwich.

Ben looked around the park to find the puppy's owner. He asked a girl in a red dress, but she said the puppy was not hers. He asked a boy riding a bike, but the boy said no. Ben and his mother walked around the park and looked near the playground and the pond.

After a while, Ben heard a woman calling, "Buddy! Buddy!" The puppy barked and ran to the woman. The woman was happy to see her puppy. She thanked Ben for helping. Ben felt happy because he helped the lost puppy find its owner.

Before Ben went home, the woman gave him a small toy as a thank you gift. Ben and his mother went home in the afternoon. Ben told his father the story of the lost puppy. That night, Ben felt proud because he did a good thing.
